Policies and Procedures Guide

Through the Read 180 curriculum, students will develop, strengthen, and improve the skills of critical reading, comprehension, vocabulary, writing, grammar, and speaking through direct and differentiated instruction.

This year will provide you with an opportunity to grow as a reader and writer. The Read 180 instructional model enables acceleration of struggling readers toward grade-level reading proficiency through a proven balance of direct instruction, small-group differentiation, and individual practice.

Handing in Assignments

Upon entering the classroom, place your homework on your desk for me to check. If I can't see it easily, you may miss out on homework credit.

Assignments are due at the beginning of the period to receive full credit. Daily homework assignments will not be accepted late except in the case of an absence from school. Formal writing assignments and projects turned in late will receive reduced credit (beginning 5-10 points) for each day that they are late.

Tardiness? Yikes!

If you are tardy, do the following:

1. Enter the room quietly.
2. If excused, hand me your pass.
3. If unexcused, sign the classroom service log.
4. Quietly take your seat and get working quickly.

*Please note that a 3rd unexcused tardy will count as an absence.

FAQ's: Frequently Asked Questions

You may be wondering how our classroom operates, or what you will be learning. Below you'll find answers to questions that others have asked. If you have a different question, be sure to ask it. Your classmates may be wondering the same thing!

What do I do when I walk in?

Follow the steps below for a smooth beginning!

1. Deposit cell phone in pocket chart then pick up your rBook and binder on the way to your seat.
2. Look at the daily agenda on the chalkboard so you know what to expect for the class period.
3. Take out any homework assignments from the previous night.
4. If you were absent the previous day, check the class folder for any handouts/assignments with your name on them.
5. Complete your DO NOW assignment if one is posted on the board or projector.
6. If you have time before the teacher addresses the class, look at the homework section of the chalkboard to prepare for what you might need to do for homework tonight. Write this in your agenda.
7. Once you are done, you should read or study silently until the teacher begins class.

Do you have a special paper heading?

Yes, it helps me stay organized, and it will help you, too. All your writing assignments should use this heading. It looks like this:

Your name
Date
Mods
Mrs. Marko
Assignment Title

What if I need help?

Always make sure you ask for help! If you need help during class, and I am busy, you may ask the ESP, if one is available, or ask another student for help, provided it is not a testing situation. If we are testing, you should raise your hand and wait for me to acknowledge you. Otherwise, please email me to clarify a question. Finally, you could always choose to post a question to your peers on our Google Classroom stream.

What happens if I forget my homework?

If you do not have the assigned homework because you were absent from school on the previous day, you must pick up the assignment from the class folder and turn it in as soon as possible, but no later than two days after the absence. It is your responsibility to turn in this work; I will not keep asking you to submit it.

How do I join our Google Classroom?

1. Use your Chromebook to "Sign in" at classroom.google.com
2. Click the "+" sign on the toolbar and click "Join class"
3. Type in your class code: 6e4gf0q

Cheating & Plagiarism

Cheating and plagiarism demonstrate a lack of integrity that is inconsistent with the goals and values of North Hunterdon High School and will not be tolerated. Any student proven guilty of cheating or turning in an assignment that has been plagiarized from an outside source of any kind will immediately receive a zero on the assignment which will be counted in the student's average. A formal disciplinary referral for cheating and/or plagiarizing will be sent to administration and placed in the student's permanent file.

What if I miss class?

Whenever possible, you should make arrangements to get work before an absence. A student may make up work following any absence. Upon returning to school after an absence, the student will have two (2) days for each day of absence to make up work unless the student makes other arrangements with his/her teachers. However, all work should be made up within a week following the student's return.

Be sure to check the list of assignments on your Edmodo.com notifications to see if any new assignments or quizzes have been posted. Ask questions when needed!

Note: It is the student's responsibility to make arrangements with me to make up missed tests as soon as possible.

If you miss class for a school activity, it is your responsibility to see me before the activity to get your assignments.

Take charge of your learning and be responsible for your own success!
